

Dedicated to Mom & Dad

In late 2000, Susan E. Griffin, founder and CEO, identified a need in the local health care system. Nearing 20 years of business experience, Where The Heart Is is offering affordable, non-medical, in-home care. As more and more seniors want to stay in their homes, the need for in-home care has skyrocketed. The current caregivers are family; sons, daughters and grandchildren.

Where The Heart Is can help. Understanding that quality care is important to families seeking personal and custodial services for their loved ones, Where The Heart Is has implemented a strict quality care program.

Susan E. Griffin has developed an extensive amount of experience in home health care and emergency medical service. Through her personal knowledge, she has set up comprehensive screening and training for all of our caregivers. She states, "what we have done is set up a system where we can give each client personalized service". We will meet with each client and their family to prepare a specific care plan, based on the wants and needs of the individual.
